

President Withdraws Name From New Hampshire Primary

Leaves Way Open To Seek Renomination

Washington (AP)—President Truman yesterday ruled out a race against Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in the New Hampshire primary on March 11, but still left the way open for himself to seek re-election.

Saying presidential primaries are eyewash, Truman emphasized that his withdrawal from the New Hampshire contest, the first in the nation, does not mean he is pulling out of the national election picture.

It doesn't mean that at all, he said. With breezy confidence, Truman told his news conference that if he decides to run, he could get the nomination without going into any of the state primaries.

On Capitol Hill, Kefauver promptly announced he will stay in the New Hampshire race—despite the fact that Truman's withdrawal has taken all the bite out of the Democratic phase of the contest and left it virtually meaningless.

The so-called "popularity" test in the little New England state is still important from a Republican standpoint, however, with Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harold E. Stassen lined up for a three-way race.

While keeping everybody guessing about his intentions, President Truman reminded newsmen that technically he has served only one term as president. Anyway, a new constitutional ban against a third term in the White House does not apply to him but only to future presidents.

Actually, at the end of his present term, Truman will have served two full terms minus about three months. He entered the White House in mid-April 1945 on the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt who had just begun his fourth term.

Democratic Chiefs Slate State Ticket

Philadelphia, (AP)—Pennsylvania Democratic leaders were reported last night to have worked out a tentative slate for their state-wide ticket to be presented to the party's policy committee at a meeting in Harrisburg Wednesday.

One source said the ticket will be headed by U. S. District Judge Guy K. Bard of Lancaster, as a candidate for the U. S. Senate seat now held by GOP Sen. Edward Martin.

Martin has announced he will be a candidate to succeed himself. Meanwhile, Pittsburgh Mayor Lawrence and Allegheny County Commissioner John J. Kane withdrew themselves as possible Democratic candidates for U. S. senator. Others reported as comprising the slate: Justice of the State Supreme court—Judge Harry W. Montgomery of Allegheny county; auditor general—Maurice Splain, chairman of the Democratic committee; State treasurer—Paul Harris, chairman of Bradford County Democratic committee.

Gabrielson, Boyle Reprimanded By Senate Group

Washington (AP)—Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson and William M. Boyle Jr., former Democratic party chief, were reprimanded in the Senate yesterday for business activities "bound to lead to charges of impropriety." The Senate investigations subcommittee took them to task for their relations with the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC) while in positions of "quasi-public trust" as party leaders.

Neither said they should have conducted themselves so as to be above suspicion.

Compensation Rates Raised

Harrisburg (AP)—Insurance Commissioner Artemas C. Leslie yesterday authorized an 11 per cent increase in workmen's compensation insurance rates. The boost, he said, was needed to offset broadened workmen's compensation and occupational disease benefits enacted by the 1951 Legislature. Maximum weekly benefits went up from $25 a week to $30. The new insurance rates will apply to all workmen's compensation policies, excluding coal mine, which became effective last Jan. 2. In addition, policies written before that date which continue in effect beyond yesterday also are increased.

Conservatives Beat Down Laborite Challenge, Adopt Austerity-Peace Program

London, (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative party government beat down last night a Labor party move for no confidence in the new program of grim lean living to help win peace. The showdown vote, on a Labor motion to censure the government, was 309 to 278. After defeating censure, the House of Commons formally adopted the government's program, 306 to 275.

Liberals joined the Conservatives in this all-out test of strength of the Churchill government, which took office three months ago after six years of Labor rule. The vote hinged on approval of Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler's program to cut British imports by 150 million pounds ($420 million dollars) a year, and institute rigid new domestic economies.

The government has a majority of 14 over all other parties. During the bitter two-day debate which preceded the vote the Laborites, spearheaded by former Prime Minister Attlee, coupled their attack on Conservative changes in the tax-supported health services they had instituted with sharp criticism of the United States for some of the economic troubles facing Britain.

Churchill and his ministers took the floor in the debate. They declared the government's program aimed at staying off national bankruptcy and "restoring the confidence of the world in the determination of this country to pay its way."

When the vote was announced, the Conservatives let out a shout that sounded as much of surprise at the size of their victory as of jubilation that the Labor censure motion had been beaten back.

Churchill would have had to resign if the censure motion had carried. He was in the chamber when the vote was announced.

HST Levels Attack On McCarthy

Washington (AP)—President Truman upbraided Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) yesterday as pathological and a character assassin.

He said that if McCarthy ever had told the truth he, the President, has not found out about it. He noted that he was speaking without immunity, a protection from lawsuits the senator has enjoyed in some of the charges of Communism he has leveled at various government figures.

McCarthy replied that the President was indulging in "name calling" and he added that "the tone of the words are almost the same as when the House committee was exposing Alger Hiss."

That was a reference to Truman's "red herring" remark about an investigation by the House Un-American Activities committee.

The President spoke out yesterday at a news conference when asked about McCarthy's recent Senate speech attacking Phillo Nash, a special White House assistant.

McCarthy said Nash, a presidential aide handling problems of minority groups, had close associations with Communists in the 1940s. Nash branded the charge untrue.

Gracie Fields To Wed

Rome (AP)—Gracie Fields said last night she expects to marry Boris Alperovitch, radio repair man, on the Isle of Capri Feb. 13. The British actress-singer, back from a tour of entertaining soldiers in Germany, Austria and Trieste, said the date was fairly certain.

Woman Loses $32,800 Because She Had Lost Faith In Banks

New York (AP)—An elderly little woman sat in her hotel room yesterday and prayed that police would recover a lost black bag containing $17,800 in cash and jewelry valued at $15,000.

The woman, Mrs. Betty Bates, a widow about 79 years old, told police she kept the money with her because she lost her faith in banks. However, she still has about $1,500 in a Cincinnati, Ohio, bank, and she has faith in the ability of the police to recover her property.

Weather Colder In Jacksonville Than Havre, Mont.

(By The Associated Press)
It got colder in Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday than in Havre, Mont., one of the nation's "ice-box" cities near the Canadian border.

The freak contrast occurred when the Eastern seaboard got another blast of cold while the rest of the nation enjoyed comparatively mild weather. The mercury dipped to 31 degrees in Jacksonville but never went lower than 34 degrees in Havre.

In the East, temperatures ranged from a minimum of -20 in Rumford, Me., to 28 above at Cross City, Fla. Concord, N. H., had a low of -13 and Miami, Fla., 45 above.

Truman Plans No Plea For Flood Relief

Washington (AP)—President Truman viewed the flooded Ohio river valley by air for two hours yesterday, at low altitude and in bright sunlight, from Pittsburgh down to Cincinnati.

In some 350 miles of soggy river basin he saw the Ohio sprawled over its banks onto acres of farmlands along much of its course, flooded into the streets and business sectors of such cities as Marietta and Pomeroy, Ohio, New Martinsville, W. Va., and Catlettsburg, Ky., and lapping at riverside highways, factories and airports, as at Cincinnati.

The President said this was bad but he had seen worse. "It isn't nearly as bad as the 1937 floods in the valley, and there is no comparison with the Missouri-Kansas valley flood of last year," he said of the flood, the crest of which had moved downstream.

He added that on the basis of what he had seen it did not appear he would have to ask Congress for additional Ohio valley relief funds.

What most impressed the President, he told newsmen on his return, was the success of flood control efforts.

Accident Deaths Rise To 93,000 In U. S. In 1951

Chicago (AP)—Accidents killed 93,000 Americans in 1951, injured more than 9 million others, and cost the nation a whopping eight billion dollars, the National Safety Council said yesterday.

The death toll was 4,000 greater than in 1950. No. 1 killer was the automobile. Of the 93,000 accidental deaths, 37,500 resulted from traffic accidents—The highest toll in a decade. The 1950 traffic toll was 35,000.

Home accidents took 27,000 lives in 1951, a figure unchanged from 1950. Occupational mishaps caused 16,000 deaths, compared with 15,500 the year ago, and public accidents not involving motor vehicles claimed 15,000 victims, compared with 14,000 in 1950.

Lower, Not Higher, Draft Quotas Loom

Washington (AP)—A sharp drop in the rate of casualties in Korea and an increase in enlistments has made it possible to cut originally planned draft quotas, Selective Service said yesterday.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, has indicated to the House Armed Services committee that a sharp upturn was in prospect this Spring. But an aide said later a figure Hershey used was based on old information and that the picture had changed.

Hershey, in a written statement for the committee, said indications are the armed forces will call upon Selective Service for 430,000 men during the seven months ending next June 30.

A few hours later, however, a Selective Service spokesman telephoned news services to say that the figure was out-dated, that it had been prepared "on the situation as it existed in November."

Hershey later told a reporter that although there have been changes in the picture since the estimate was prepared, he used the 430,000 figure because it was the most recent one on the armed forces' probable intake of men which he had received from the Defense department.

"I don't know of any later figures," he said. "They haven't furnished me any."

He said there undoubtedly have been changes in the situation, but that his office had not attempted to correlate them with the 430,000 figure supplied by the Pentagon. In any event, he said, the 430,000 figure was meant to represent not just the number to be taken into the armed services through the draft, but to include voluntary enlistments as well—"all removals from the (manpower) pool" except for any National Guard or reserve troops who might be called up.

Hershey said that a caption on his statement, which indicated that the 430,000 represented only the probable total draft quota for the seven months, "was undoubtedly our mistake."

On the basis of Hershey's original testimony, it had appeared that draft quotas for the April-May-June period would have to be more than 90,000 men a month.

That would have represented a sharp upturn and would exceed the 80,000 figure for March, 1951, the peak month since the draft was reactivated in September, 1950.

Committee members did not question Hershey at the time.

The aide later said the sharp reduction in Korean casualties, largely attributed to current truce negotiations, had made it likely that the 430,000 figure which Hershey used would be reduced considerably. He said it might be in the neighborhood of 275,000 to 300,000, "barring unforeseen things."

The aide also said a raise in voluntary enlistments had made it possible to reduce draft quotas still further.

While the quotas are fixed by the Defense department, the Selective Service spokesman said that it now appears that they will run between 40,000 and 50,000 men during the April-June period.

Since the draft was reactivated, the monthly average has been just over 46,000. Young men 18½ through 25 are subject to the draft.

Thus far, only the Army and the Marines have called upon Selective Service for inductees. The Navy and Air Force still are relying upon volunteers.

The draft call in December was only 16,900 men, partially because there were no inductions during the holiday season. For last month, the quota was 59,650. The quota for February is 52,500 and that for March is 28,600.

Arnall May Be Offered DiSalle Post

Washington (AP)—Ellis Arnall, former governor of Georgia, was reported yesterday to have been offered the post of director of price stabilization.

Arnall, who conferred with President Truman on Wednesday, would not comment on the reports that he had been offered the job to succeed Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle plans to leave the post in February to run for the U. S. Senate in Ohio.

Arnall had lunch yesterday with Roger L. Putnam, chief of the Economic Stabilization agency. Putnam has supervision over the Office of Price Stabilization.

Mr. Truman said at his news conference earlier in the day that he had picked a man to succeed DiSalle but would not name him. He did say, however, that he'd like to have Arnall in his administration.

Hospital Asks Resignations

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., (AP)—St. Francis hospital, a Roman Catholic institution, demanded yesterday that seven physicians resign from its staff or sever their connections with the Dutchess County League for Planned Parenthood.

"This demand from the hospital is wholly unreasonable and an invasion of the freedom of action or belief of medical practitioners," said Dr. William H. Meyer, medical director of the league.

He said a newly formed league "steering committee" has called on the hospital to repudiate the demand, and that the whole matter would be laid before the State and American Medical societies.

Dr. Rev. Monsignor Michael P. O'Shea of Poughkeepsie, dean of the Catholic clergy of Dutchess and Putnam counties, said the action by the hospital is "logical and just."

"Every one knows where the hospital stands on the question of birth control," he said.

(Roman Catholic doctrine forbids use of contraceptives or other mechanical means for birth control.)

Royal Couple Leave London On World Tour

London (AP)—A big silver and blue plane bore Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh last night on the first leg of a round-the-world tour in which they will visit Australia, New Zealand and other British Empire outposts.

The 30,000-mile trip, which will span two oceans and bring them home via the Panama canal, is expected to take more than five months.

The royal plane bore the apt radio code name "How King." It underlines a question that was in the mind of the 25-year-old heiress presumptive at the take-off.

Her concern about the health of her father, King George VI, revealed itself for an instant when she bade him farewell. Standing in the doorway of the plane, she paused and looked anxiously at the lined face of the ailing monarch. Then her smile lit up again. She waved acknowledgement of the cheers of more than 3,000 spectators at London airport.

Illegal Gambling Declines 90% Under New Tax Law

Washington, (AP)—A revenue official said confidentially yesterday the new Federal gambling tax has choked off 90 per cent of the nation's illegal gambling business, estimated by investigating senators at 20 billion dollars a year.

Eugene Coyle, the Revenue bureau's expert on the gambling tax, told reporters "I don't know how long the honeymoon will last, but right now most of the big-time gamblers have closed shop."

Coyle said gambling operators are staging a mass exodus from the field because the new law required them to reveal their illegal operations to local police, the public and the press.

The publicity angle is particularly hurting gamblers, he said, because any "arrangements" with local police "could not stand up under the light of publicity."

In another development yesterday, the Federal Communications commission ordered an investigation into any use gamblers are making of Western Union telegraph wires.

Western Union had proposed to put into effect, starting at midnight last night, new regulations governing the transmission of horse and dog racing news.

FCC ordered a postponement of the effective date until May 3. It said it will hold a public hearing March 3 to determine, among other things, whether the new rules would attain their purpose of withdrawing service from illegal gambling interests.

With regard to the Federal gambling tax, Coyle commented on a Revenue bureau report showing that 8,913 gamblers across the nation bought tax stamps in December compared to 1,556 in November, the first month under the new law.

Most of these are relatively petty operators, Coyle said. They include many punchboard dealers in western states where such operations are legal.

Gamblers who had stamps for November reported business of only about two million dollars for that month, paying a 10 per cent tax totaling more than $199,000.

Coupled with $383,504 paid in by gamblers for their tax stamps, the total collections from the gambling fraternity through December amounted to $582,504—a far cry from the 400 million dollars a year in revenue estimated by congressmen when they enacted the gambling tax.

U. N. Clears Way To Air Final Issue

Munson, Korea, Friday (AP)—The United Nations truce negotiators suddenly cleared the way yesterday for the Communists to bring up their pet demand for withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief Allied negotiator, attempting to speed the long-drawn-out talks, invited the Reds to open immediate negotiations on the final agenda item, although agreement has not yet been reached on other major issues.

The Communist reply could have been made when negotiators resumed their talks in Panmunjom at 11 a.m. today.

In a letter to North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, top Communist truce delegate, Joy asked that "your side propose the first draft of articles relating to agenda item five."

Item five calls simply for "recommendations to the governments of the countries concerned on both sides."

Italy Given $122,449,000

Washington (AP)—The United States has allotted Italy $122,449,000 under the mutual security program to help boost Italian military and civilian production.

Officials who disclosed this said $100,000,000 was earmarked for Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi's government Saturday to help the Italians pay for needed American imports.

The funds are expected to go mainly for coal, metals, raw materials and some wheat.

One-Night Effort Nets Large Sum

Elated officials last night said contributions netted in the Mothers March against Polio might top the $5,000 mark.

Actual cash intake reported by Miss Helen Kulp from the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. collection headquarters at 11 p. m. was $4,578.86.

"We've heard from every area," Miss Kulp said, "but there are still some incomplete returns—the West End, Delaware Water Gap and Stroudsburg, for instance."

When the official final count is made, said Miss Kulp, the $5,000 figure probably will be met.

The much-heralded Mothers March began at 6:30 p. m. with the blowing of fire alarms throughout the county.

Some 525 canvassers, not including march lieutenants, pitched in to cover their assigned districts—most of them on foot.

Porch or house lights went on to signal canvassers that a resident wished to contribute. Mothers also hit business establishments, such as restaurants, in the more populated sections.

Mothers all carried jars or cardboard containers. The receptacles filled quickly with coins, folding money, even an occasional check, from residents up in arms against the polio scourge.

At 6:30 p. m. the first Mother carried her collection into the Trust company lobby to turn over to Miss Kulp, and J. L. Cohen, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign.

She was Mrs. Irene Elise, a nurse at the General hospital who lives east of Snyder'sville on Route 209. Mrs. Elise, like scores of others, had started at 4 p. m. to canvass her rural territory on foot; she turned over $15.93.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton had another story to tell when he showed up at the bank with more contributions: one of the canvassers approached the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hecht, N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg. One of the Hecht youngsters had already been a polio victim. The child's brothers and sisters turned over 20 dimes to the Mother.

Another contribution brought in was a total 75 cents in nickels from the youngsters of Brownie's Troop No. 25.

Lieutenants and canvassers trooped singly and in pairs to turn over their collections. A handful of volunteer bank employees ran the bills through a counting machine, and the change was added up by hand.

The last contributions were handed in about 9:30 p.m.

The official total will be reported today, Miss Kulp said. Even the unofficial tallies revealed some surprising things: Stroud township, for example, contributed more money to the Mothers March than had ever been contributed by it toward any single campaign.

On a population basis of about 33,700, an average of about 15 cents had been contributed for every man, woman and child in the county.

Coroner Rules In Deaths

Scranton (AP) — The Lackawanna county coroner's office yesterday ruled that Earl L. Butler, 52-year-old trucking firm executive, and Mrs. Madelyn Deykes, Republican women's leader, died of carbon monoxide poisoning. The two were found dead Sunday night in the woman's home in nearby Dunmore.

Dr. Paul S. Kubaska, coroner, said death was accidental. He said he based his verdict on the result of autopsies, and blamed a faulty furnace in the cellar of the Deykes' home as the cause.

What, No Highway?

The Pennsylvania Department of Highways is planning a new four-lane road over Foxtown Hill to provide an adequate traffic connection with the new Delaware River bridge.

Undoubtedly a sizeable quantity of steel will be required as reinforcement so the highway will stand up under the terrific pounding it is certain to receive.

Recently, this State's major highway projects have been slowed down to a stand-still, despite huge investments on the part of the Commonwealth, for lack of steel. Lack of steel in the world's greatest steel producing state? The idea is absurd.

We lack steel because the National Production Administration limits highways to only two per cent of the steel produced in the U. S. That's an amount roughly equal to what we send overseas to help friendly nations.

So we agree heartily with Secretary of Highways E. L. Schmidt, who hit the ceiling the other day when he got a letter from an export-import concern, saying:

"We are in position to supply you with practically all steel goods you may require to insure full production . . . we represent a number of suppliers abroad, so do not hesitate to call upon us for hard-to-get items."

Prices are around $200 a ton, instead of the $73 a ton for the domestic steel the State can't buy.

What goes on here? We ship steel—and dollars—to friendly nations to help their economy and re-armament programs. At the same time, we complain that they're not rearming fast enough. And some of them ship steel here, at fancy prices.

Government being what it is, it probably would require a major effort to straighten out this comparatively small bungle in foreign economic policy.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Los Angeles — James Roosevelt, Democratic national committeeman in California, who wants to lead 70 Truman-placed delegates to the national convention in July, isn't even getting support from the White House. This is odd, in view of the fact that Roosevelt is the only Democratic politician in an official position in the state who has pledged his allegiance to the President. That it would be odd if anyone but Roosevelt was involved. He is a politician liability to the extent that not even Mr. Truman wants him as a friend. In view of the background and behavior of some of the men around the President, this is indeed a severe indictment.

Roosevelt learned of the political face-slapping when the chairman of the Democratic national committee, Frank McKinney, acting on White House orders, "suggested" that California's ten Democratic Congressmen be given control of the campaign committee. This eased Roosevelt right out the back door. The McKinney proposal is part of White House strategy to collect delegates by using favorite sons as stalking horses. This will give the White House total control of the Chicago battle field. In the event the President has decided to run again McKinney can hand him the nomination on a platter. If the President doesn't run, McKinney and the White House will name the man, and the candidate, whoever he is, will be beholden to those in control in Washington and no one else.

Rep. Harry Sheppard will probably be the favorite son of California Democrats if the McKinney strategy stays stuck together. Roosevelt, however, is fighting back, but so far it is only a paper war. Roosevelt has notified the national committee that he will continue his fight to obtain pro-Truman pledges from California delegates and that he will not be bound by any agreement to the contrary. He has the support of the Democratic state chairman, Glenn Anderson, but that is about all. The Roosevelt strategy, of course, is to label himself an early starter for Truman and then reap the benefits in the event the President does run again.

This is exactly what the White House wants to avoid. Neither the President nor McKinney look with delight on the future prospect of Roosevelt tightening his grip on California Democrats by taking credit for a Truman victory if there is one, nor do they want to deal with Roosevelt in Chicago for the 70 California Democrats if the President

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

A Czechoslovakian village was failing to produce its quota and a Soviet official came down to raise hell. An old peasant complained, "How do you expect us to work harder when we don't have enough to eat and our clothes are in rags?" You don't know how good you have it," barked the commissar. "Millions of people in the decadent West have no food or clothes at all."

"Humph, grumbled the old peasant, "they must have been under the Soviet longer than we have."

Two days after Miller's fiftieth birthday celebration, a couple of the guests met at Toots Shor's. "How did you make out after I left you the other evening?" asked the first. "Terribly," said the second. "I ran my jalopy right into a police car and spent the night in jail. You're lucky," said the first. "I got home!"

But surely someone in the federal government should be able to see the value of supporting our own economy—in which motor transportation plays a large part—and the absurdity of losing the investment we've made in incomplete projects.

Taking On a Big One

It took more than a normal amount of objectiveness for the House Judiciary Committee to vote an investigation of Attorney General J. Howard McGrath and the Justice Department.

The committee is dominated by Democrats. And this is an election year in which the Democratic administration already is under fire from a dozen other investigating committees.

The resoluteness of the committee, in the face of these circumstances, stacks up as one of the harder actions of this Congress.

But the payoff is in results. The committee has voted a "non-political and non-discursive" investigation. The achievement of that objective will depend largely on the caliber and impartiality of those chosen to do the investigating.

And on a complete disregard of the political thunderheads in the distance.

Okay

Speaking in Milwaukee, Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball took after inefficient government employees.

"If they don't deliver the goods," he said, "let them get the hell out of office."

Okay. When do they start delivering the goods?

—By Jack Lait

Oligonaires, Etc.

It has long been a habit of glimmers and simonizers of the romances of showgirls, models and their café society sisterhood to couple them with high-sounding males. Among the handy handles for the enraptured gents have been "Wall Streeter," "society scion," "their to the fortune," "direct descendant of" and "star" (meaning any tapdancer or bit-actor). But of late the favorite has been "Texas oil millionaire," or plain "Texas millionaire."

There are many very rich men in Texas and some of them got that way with gushers. They have been known to gambol with, even marry, girls from choruses. But my experience has shown that the preponderant majority of characters in the theatrical and posing arts tie up with musicians, minor performers, bookmakers, cat-owners, reporters, pugilists and gangsters.

In chronicling the new estate of "Sluttern' Sam" Dowell, one of our most famed and written-up showgirls, who is back in the city and has a good job with the Marx toy establishment, I fell into the pattern by the easy custom of popular appellation. She wrote me a friendly letter (we are old acquaintances) in which she observed:

"If one must work—and I must, since my Texas millionaire husband hailed from Brooklyn and had a two-dollar bankroll on real good days—"

So any "seen with" or "hand-holding" or "are looking for a preacher" offering hereafter, naming Texas tycoons, must be accompanied by certified bank statements. Also, any café cavalier rated as an "executive" must be proven to be of the rank of chief shipping-clerk at least.

Which brings me to something smacking of the scientific that bears on my draft card. Isabel Leighton, on the Feb. 7 WJZ-TV program, "How Did They Get That Way?" has chosen "The Psychological Implications of Gossip," wonder whether she doesn't mean "psychiatric." I have asked for an advance copy of the script, and if I can get it I will let my readers in on a digest of the findings. Isabel is of the cognate editor of "The Aspirin Age" and contributor to our better magazines.

So now let's have some gossip, no matter what the implications: Sen. Joe McCarthy (there are no oilwells in Wisconsin) is attentive to a Washington society girl. Anita Ellis, the songstress, prefers Stephen Greene, the modern painter who won this year's Prix de Rome. Roberta Peters is happy since Robert Merrill returned to the Met. They're "in tune," as the cliché goes. . . . Nancy Valentine, before she returned to the Coast, gave furrier Milton Herman a cigarette case, inscribed "Milton Dear, This is Leap Year." She is the estranged wife of the Maharajah of Cooh Bahar, divorced from him where he maharajahs, but not in the U. S.

Nina Foch and Ralph Meeker, also of the screen, prefer the seclusion of the Highway Downbeat Club. . . . Julia Moad, who is on the Dennis James video show, gets three calls a week from Rio. It's Brazilian catkin-king Uvalde Martinez. (No all, But I once knew a man in Cincinnati who was hailed as the "Shoe-lace King.") I told Martinez will be here in a fortnight and there may be an announce-

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Another Element of Danger
The Japanese Peace Treaty is, on the whole, a good treaty; yet ratification should be slow. The treaty provides:

"All occupation forces of the Allied Powers shall be withdrawn from Japan as soon as possible after the coming into force of the present treaty, and in any case not later than 90 days thereafter. Nothing in this provision shall, however, prevent the stationing or retention of foreign armed forces in Japanese territory under or in consequence of any bilateral or multilateral agreements which have been or may be made between one or more of the Allied Powers on the one hand, and Japan on the other."

Even though a "Security Treaty between the United States of America and Japan" has been negotiated, the fact remains that Soviet Russia is not a party to the San Francisco treaty and therefore is still at war with Japan. Should we step out of Japan, Russia could step in. What ever measures we take to reduce our military establishment in no manner affects Russia's right to expand hers. Russia could even dump Japan the host of Japanese prisoners-of-war who have been retained by Russia for several years and who have been indoctrinated and prepared for the Communist revolution in Japan. Although the retention of these prisoners-of-war is a violation of the Potsdam agreement, the Russians have refused to release them or adequately report about them.

It is supposed to be a deep secret, but it is strongly reported that the Pentagon and the State Department are in disagreement on this subject, the military taking the position that it is dangerous to imperil our troops in Korea, while the State Department feels that it is bound to press for ratification.

If the question is asked, what will be done if Russia takes advantage of our departure from Japan, and sets herself up in that country as a conqueror, the answer is that that would be an act of war. Does that mean that we should then have to go to war with Soviet Russia to liberate Japan? It would be simpler to delay ratification of the Japanese Peace Treaty, thus postponing our obligation to leave that country within 90 days after that event. We might postpone such ratification, at any rate, until the Korean War is over.

No Japanese official could afford to say that he would like ratification postponed. It would be admitting that without the physical presence in Japan of American troops, that country still stands in peril of imminent conquest by Soviet Russia. Japan has lived in that peril since the 1890's.

It is not altogether understandable why the State Department is in such a great hurry to obtain ratification from the United States Senate. Nothing immediate is to be gained; much danger may arise from such ratification. Delay could give Japan more time for reconstruction. Actually, a Japanese government is now in control of that country, and the Japanese political system is being restored. Why is it necessary to take chances while American troops are in Korea? Are those troops to be squeezed between Russian-controlled forces in Manchuria and a revolutionary Japan? Surely, none of that can be right.

Possibly the only hope to get at the whole truth of this will be in a hearing before the Foreign Relations committee of the Senate. Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett, while he has had long associations with the New Deal, in both the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, is most favorably regarded even by Republicans. It is not likely that he would say before a Senate committee, under oath, that he did not believe to be true. It is likely that if properly questioned, particularly concerning the relations between the Korean campaign and the ratification of the Japanese Peace Treaty, he would not avoid the precise truth.

At any rate, that is the best hope we have of getting at the truth of this business. The continuing value of Congressional investigations is that they always bring out some of the facts in a situation. Our foreign policy has been secretly conducted for secret objectives, but as the 1952 Presidential campaign approaches, there will be an increasing clamor for precise facts and a clear explanation of them. The reason for speed in the ratification of the Japanese Peace Treaty requires detailed explanation.

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — A look-see at what's shootin'.

On "The Cop and the Anthem" set, Charles Laughton leaves a horseshoe through a plate glass window. The heave doesn't shatter the window enough. So grips sweep up the debris and install a fresh window. Real plate glass — 5 feet by 7.

Next heave, whammo! — right through the middle. You ask Charlie if it isn't fun, smashing windows. "It might be if it weren't still war," he says. He plays the elegant bum in the O. Henry story who tries to get thrown into jail for food and lodging, through a cold winter.

The window-breaking is blamed on another bum (David Wayne). Every law-breaking ruse Laughton tries fails to get him jugged. You ask him a rich ruse is the most fun. "The one in which I pick up Marilyn Monroe," the rotund actor replies with an understandable twinkle. "But I shouldn't say that—I'm a married man."

This is one of several O. Henry stories being packaged into one movie titled "The Full House."

Wayne, as a musical-swinging dandy, wears incredibly shabby clothes. He pieced together in the studio wardrobe department. Turns out he made a study of bums for a previous role as killer in "M." He bought a $9 outfit of second and third-hand clothes and wore it along Los Angeles' Skidrow, dropping in at greasy spoons for coffee and a look at other customers. Nobody recognized him.

Over on the "Dream Boat" set they're shooting a silent movie—that's right silent—starring Clifton Webb and Ginger Rogers.

To Run Or Not To Run

Mrs. Truman — what's all this about you not deciding whether you'll run again or not, Harry? You know very well we've had enough of Washington.

Harry — Let's not go all over that again, Bess. You know how I stand on another term.

Mrs. Truman — I thought I did, but you've got me guessing again. Why don't you come right out and announce you're fed up with the White House?

Harry — Now, Bess, be patient. Getting out isn't easy.

Mrs. Truman — Nonsense, Harry. All it takes is candor and train tickets back to Independence. We don't even have to bother moving the piano.

Harry — I must consider the political picture, my duty to the Party and all that sort of thing.

Mrs. Truman — Sometimes I think you love this job, with all its headaches.

Harry — It is not love at all; merely infatuation.

Mrs. Truman — That's even more dangerous.

Harry — On the level, Bess, don't you get a bang out of being the First Lady?

Mrs. Truman — No bang can last much longer than seven years. Face the facts. Make a plain statement of your intentions. Are you a man or a mouse?

Harry — I am a man . . . but I have got to consider the mouse vote.

Mrs. Truman — The minute you start talking like that I can see you are weakening on your promise to me. I can almost see that old look in your eyes when you begin thinking of baby kissing and locomotive driving.

Harry — I love the old life back home in Missouri as much as you do, Bess, but a lot of people are telling me I owe a duty to the people.

Mrs. Truman — You know as well as I do, Harry, that's the old

It's a sequence that appears on television as an oldtime film, a flashback to a modern story. Webb is a World War One hero, Ginger his sweetie in a city cafe. A soldier yells that a German ace is overhead. "At last," cries Webb, shouting Rogers aside, "he has accepted my challenge!" Rogers pleads: "Don't go—our love is more important." Webb, nobly: "You would not want the love of a coward!"

New Bridge Progressing At Milford

Milford, Pa.—The new Delaware River bridge between this community and Montague, N. J., is now well ahead of schedule and unless something unforeseen happens, the structure will be completed several months ahead of original schedule.

That sums up a report submitted here recently by John Blair, construction engineer for Johnson, Drake & Pipher, construction firm which bid around $15,000,000 for erecting of the bridge here, another at Delaware Water Gap and one at Portland.

All three bridges are under construction, and all are well ahead of original schedule.

Mr. Blair submitted his report to the Pike County association.

Milford's bridge will be supported by three large piers, one on each side of the Delaware and one in the center, each having a span of approximately 300 feet.

The base or footing for the abutment on the Milford side is completed as is the base for pier No. 1. The pier is now ready for granite installation. Progress of laying stone will depend entirely on weather conditions.

As soon as pier 1 is ready, erection of steel girders will start. Company expects to be ready for steel by June.

Crews are moving to the New Jersey side next week where work will be started on abutment and base of pier No. 3.

I Eat What I Like

Without
Acid Indigestion

Fear of heartburn, sour stomach doesn't spoil my enjoyment of favorite foods. Like millions of Americans, I carry Tums always. Pleasant-tasting Tums neutralize excess stomach acid—soothe the burning sensation of sour stomach, heartburn, gas almost instantly. Contain no soda to cause acid rebound. Follow the rule for happy eating—"Keep Tums Handy—Eat Like Candy."

Don't Let Form 1040 Scare You

By Alexander George
Washington AP—If you make your tax return on Long Form 1040, carefully gather all the necessary information before starting to make out your return.

Two classes of taxpayers must use the long form return:

- 1.—Persons who had income in 1951 of $5,000 or more.
- 2.—Persons, regardless of income, who itemize their non-business deductions instead of taking the standard deduction allowance of 10 per cent of income.

Before starting to make out your return, write the following information on work sheets:

- 1.—Income in 1951—amount of wages and other income received.
- 2.—Deductible expenses — expenses necessary to your work or business. In case of expenses of your job, divide them into two groups. In the first group list out-of-town travel expenses and "reimbursed expenses." In the second group list all other job expenses.

You deduct "reimbursed expenses" from your wages if such expenses are reported by your employer as part of your income. The idea is that you don't want to pay tax on expense money.

The first group of expenses is deducted from your wages on page 1 of the return. The second group is deducted along with other miscellaneous deductions on page 3 of form 1040 if you itemize non-business deductions.

3.—Non-business deduction — certain taxes, interest, losses from fire, flood and storm, contributions and medicinal expenses. Check carefully to see if it will pay you to itemize these deductions instead of taking the standard allowance.

4.—Taxes on 1951 income already paid—amount withheld from 1951 wages and amount paid with tax estimates made during the past year. (Your employer gives you a statement of tax withheld from wages).

Read carefully the pamphlet of instructions that goes with form 1040. If you did not receive these instructions and form 1040 you can obtain them from the collector's office in your district, a post office, bank or possibly your employer.

With your work sheets as a guide, fill out your return. One step at a time is the easiest way. Follow the numbered directions on your return and don't worry about the next step until you get to it.

If a question—such as income from rents or royalties—does not apply to you, write plainly "none." But be sure to answer every question on the return.

A change in this year's return form, applying to many taxpayers, is the new schedule J for listing exemptions for close relations, other than your wife and children. You will list your spouse and dependent children on page 1.

Be sure to answer the questions regarding exemptions in schedule J at the bottom of page 2. It may save you time and trouble in being called to the collector's office for further explanation.

Also be sure to follow the directions very carefully in the tax computing section on page 3. Triple check your arithmetic or

Faithful adherence to the advice of a physician is of stellar importance in the treatment of diabetes. ## Business News In Monroe Area

Irving Jacobs, 151 Analomink St., East Stroudsburg, is celebrating 30 years of retail merchandising in the Stroudsburgs. Mr. Jacobs is the owner-operator of the Bon Ton Department Store at 32 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

Mr. Jacobs' business activities here date back to February, 1922. At that time he took over what was then the Daylight Store in the Henry Building corner of Washington and Crystal Sts., now occupied by Waring Enterprises.

In the past 30 years the Bon Ton has more than doubled in size. The line of merchandise has kept pace with growth in variety of styles and expanded to complete clothing and shoes for an entire family.

Recently, Mr. Jacobs' two sons, Harold and Jerry, have joined him in the business.

The firm will mark the 30th anniversary with a ten-day anniversary sale.

A "don't stop too soon, but don't go too far" plea was directed here yesterday by Marie T. Miller, manager of the regional Social Security office, to bookkeepers have someone good at figures check them for you.

For most married couples who use long form 1040, the tax on a joint return will be smaller than or as small as on separate returns.

A one-income couple can't lose by using the joint return.

If you are a two-income couple and have exceptional investment losses, deductions for medical expenses or for large contributions, figure your tax by both joint and separate returns to see which is cheaper. If it seems complicated, get the help of a collector's office or other tax authority.

Remember that a joint return must be signed by both husband and wife. Make and save an exact copy of your return. You will need it if you want to correct or change your return in any way.

Are you a self-employed person under social security? If you are, you must make a return on your self-employment income and pay the self-employment tax, if any, along with your income tax return.

Be sure to attach your tax withholding statements (Form W-2) to your income tax return. Keep the copies of your withholding statements.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Now that's what I call cooperation on a grand scale—and the trip through the towns at 7 o'clock last night carried with it some of the same excitement that you can feel at Halloween with the porch lights shining for the Mothers March on Poila, and the mothers really marching in an effort to call at all the lighted homes within the hour.

Wasn't just porch-lights either—since one worker from Delaware Water Gap reported a lantern hung at one gatepost in shining invitation. Sort of a modern Passover, it was, with the occasional darkened homes looking forlorn among the bright homes of the blessed—or at least homes ready with their blessings.

But if the streets looked like Halloween, the March of Dimes headquarters at the Security Trust Co. looked like election night with the captains bringing in their bulging money jars, and the counting machines going and even young Marie Cohen drafted into service as messenger girl.

One porch light, however, remained on long after the Mother's March was over. A steady stream of visitors came to bring their congratulations to Reeves Bush on his 95th birthday, and to leave with something much more precious—the hope that their own later years might bring with them the same courage, wisdom, good spirits and memories bright as banners that he has achieved.

After such a long and exciting day, I'll bet his sleep last night was deep and sweet.

Listen To—Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:05 a.m.

Many Friends Pay Tribute To Reeves J. Bush On His 95th Birthday Yesterday

His 95th birthday will be a memorable one for Reeves J. Bush, with a steady stream of callers throughout the day bringing their best wishes and congratulations.

Mr. Bush, who makes his home with his only child, Mrs. Russell J. Jones, 704 Thomas Street, Stroudsburg, thoroughly enjoyed the visits from his friends and the dinner which climaxed the day. He received flowers and an elderberry pie and birthday cakes, including one in the form of a triumphal horse-shoe surrounded by flowers.

The horseshoe brought on reminiscences of an early day. Mr. Bush was a harness maker, working first for Reuben Miller at the harnessmaker's shop located where Bixler's store is now on Main Street. Later he and Reuben's son, Mose Miller, went in business for themselves.

After the need for harness makers declined, they sold out and Mr. Bush worked for the Peoples Coal Co., until his retirement. He is still alert and well, and recalls vividly many of the incidents of the long ago years, when he was growing up with the town. He was born and lived his entire life in this community.

He remembers his father coming home from the Civil War and tossing to his son the military cap of the Grand Army of the Republic to wear proudly around the streets of the village.

Yesterday was a day for remembering—and to remember for Mr. Bush.

He has two sisters now living in Allentown, who were unable to make the trip, two grandchildren and a great-grandson in Philadelphia where he visited this summer. His granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. Reeves Frederick Jones, assisted Mrs. Jones in entertaining at the open house throughout the day.

Presents Painting To Congregation

Tannersville—On Sunday, Jan. 27, Mrs. Gladys Shaffer presented the congregation of the Tannersville Methodist church with a canvas painted by herself of "The Sermon on the Mount," which she dedicated to the memory of her mother, Mrs. Hattie Raish. It was hung in the rear of the church, facing the altar, and Mrs. Ruth Howell presented the church with a reflector to throw the light on the picture in memory of Mrs. Howell's mother, Mrs. Emma Raish. The new lighting fixtures will be installed at an early date. Flowers on the altar further enhanced the scene for this impressive service.

Birthday Today

Mrs. James Allam, of Stroudsburg, is celebrating her birthday today.

Over the grapevine comes a cute story of the school teacher who was giving mid-year's the other day, and turned the chairs of two children toward the wall. One pupil has a hearing defect that is best overcome when sound falls on the ear from the side. The other has been known to borrow answers from other papers on occasion.

Being occupied with her own work, the teacher didn't notice that a third chair had also been turned to the wall. It came as rather a surprise when she finally observed this untoward departure from custom. "Why, dear," she remonstrated gently, "why are you facing the wall? I didn't tell you to, you know." The six year old smiled gravely. "I know," she agreed, "but there was once or twice when I copied too . . . and I'm just afraid I can't trust myself anymore."

That's how it is with me when I come up against all the new merchandise at Wyckoff's. Everything is so beautiful and so reasonably priced, it's always a question of whether or not I can say "NO" and make it stick. The saving grace is that, no matter what one buys here, she is sure of getting quality and complete satisfaction. For, just as the little school girl was determined to be honest in her examinations, Wyckoff's is determined to maintain the integrity built up through more than 75 years of splendid business history.

We at Wyckoff's know that it isn't enough to sell merchandise. We must please customers. By the same token, Wyckoff employees are instructed not to be merely "efficient," but to be sincerely helpful and friendly. Whether or not you can trust your own shopping judgment, you can trust Wyckoff's . . . and through the years satisfied customers have come to recognize this fact.

Next Monday, February 4, the store will be closed all day for inventory. That may be a good time for you to inventory your homes . . . What are your household and family needs for spring and summer? Give them a thought . . . and then let us think about supplying the answers. Okay?

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Marty Baldwin, well known local sportsman and executive vice president of the Scranton baseball entry in the class "A" Eastern League, will attend tomorrow's meeting of the Eastern League at the Hotel New Yorker, in New York City, with Louis Basile, owner of the Scranton franchise. On Sunday Baldwin is scheduled to accompany Basile to the New York Baseball Writer's dinner. It is quite likely that the circuit will adopt its 1952 schedule at tomorrow's gathering.

Stroudsburg's good news turned to bad yesterday, when it was learned that Karl Weingartner will be unable to oppose Palmerton tonight, after it was thought that the hard playing sophomore would be able to return to action after suffering a chipped ankle bone a couple of weeks ago. However, Weingartner was advised to take at least one more week of rest before returning to the hardwood. The injury is believed to have been originally contracted in a football game.

East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High schools present one of those situations again tonight, when both are scheduled to oppose top flight opposition on the local home hardwoods at the same time, giving fans a pick of two games, but depriving the really interested cage followers of a chance to see both Hellertown and Palmerton in action this season. Hellertown is the first-half title holder in the Lehigh-Northampton League, while Palmerton is the defending champion in the Lehigh Valley League.

Ray Welsh, former basketball coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and now a scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates, is scheduled to speak at an annual banquet at Avoca High school in the near future. Jim Frawley, injured ESSTC cager, is reportedly resting comfortably in the school's infirmary, with a slight headache the only remains of his tumble at Fairleigh-Dickinson the other night. However, Frawley is definitely not going to play against Paterson State Teachers College tonight, but is hopeful of being able to oppose West Chester next Wednesday.

The Warriors also face the prospects of opposing Paterson without the services of Frank "Whitey" Whitecavage, who was still out of school with a virus infection yesterday and wasn't present for practice last night. Even if Whitecavage returns to school today, chances are that the big fellow won't be in any condition to play basketball. Whitecavage is undoubtedly the most improved player on the ESSTC quintet this year and owes a great deal of this to spending the summer months in the Catskill mountains.

ESSTC's 29-2 wrestling loss to Lock Haven State Teachers College on Wednesday was by the exact same score that the Bald Eagles took the Warriors into camp last year. Ralph "Pete" Arnold, who rolled a pair of 200-plus games in the Record Major league last week, came right back to do the same thing on Wednesday of this week. Arnold's 244 count on Wednesday was high single for the night. This guy shoots for low scores on the golf course and high marks on the bowling alleys—he just can't seem to make up his mind.

Benjamin Franklin High school, of Carbondale, will reportedly pay $22,000 for Russell Park and its equipment in the very near future. This money will then be used to clear virtually all debts compiled by the Carbondale Pioneer Blues, when the North Atlantic league was in operation. Paul Elbrecht, sports editor of the Carbondale Daily News and one of the best supporters the North Atlantic league ever had, is half of a team handling the broadcasting of scholastic basketball games over WCBL—and from all reports doing a good job.

"Red" Fitzsimmons, currently a member of the ESSTC cage machine, is rumored on his way to Long Island University later in his collegiate career. This report comes out of the Scranton area where Fitzsimmons made his mark as a scholastic cager. Jim Crandall, rumored in line to manage the Scranton professional diamond organization before the job was given to "Zach" Taylor, who piloted the St. Lewis Browns last year, has been named as field boss of the York entry in the class "B" Inter-State league. York is another Brownie farm.

Charley Decker, basketball star at Waymart High prior to his graduation last June, entered Keystone Junior College on Wednesday of this week. Charley played four games in the Tri-County league before entering school at LaPlume, Pa., and totaled 166 points, 56 of them coming in one contest. Jack Barry may be unable to play for Greene-Dreher-Sterling against Lake Township tonight, due to the death of his grandmother in Philadelphia.

Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg Play On Home Courts

Mountaineers Tangle With Palmerton

Stroudsburg High's cage machine will open the second-half of the Lehigh Valley League season tonight without the services of Karl Weingartner, sophomore cager who suffered a chipped bone in his right ankle two weeks ago. Weingartner will be sadly missed as the Mountaineers tangle with Palmerton, defending champion.

The Blue Bombers will invade the W. Main St. court for the junior varsity struggle at 7 p. m., with the varsity battle set for approximately 8:15.

Stroudsburg wound up the first-half of the current campaign with a total of three victories to go with four setbacks. The wins were over Lehigh, Slatington and Whitehall, while the setbacks were at the hands of Palmerton, tonight's foe; Catasauqua, Emmaus and Northampton.

Palmerton on the other hand was grouped in second place with the other four teams that chased the Rough Riders of Catasauqua to the first-half championship. It was thought that Weingartner, after missing the Slatington and Northampton battles, would be available for action tonight. However, the hard playing sophomore was ordered to take another week of rest before resuming his scholastic cage career.

Coach Sam Russell announced last night that he would start the same array of talent that dropped a 62-61 decision to Northampton recently. This means that Dave "Muscles" Everitt and Al Adelman will handle the forward duties, with Gene Caske at center and Captain Alden "Red" Fetherman and Jack Newell at the guard positions.

The Mountaineers are also booked for a home date next Tuesday, when the Russellmen play host to Emmaus.

Kish To Speak At Barrett

Cresco—The Barrett Lions club will present its second annual Father and Son Banquet here at Vogt's Tavern on Tuesday, February 26, it was announced last night by George Sopko, chairman of the banquet committee.

The guest speaker will be Ben Kish, former University of Pittsburgh football, basketball and baseball star.

Kish also held down a backfield position with the Philadelphia Eagles for eight years, before retiring in 1950. Kish was a member of the Eagles when they were the cream of the National Football League.

Club member Steve Kosko will be honored at the banquet for unselfish duty to the community.

Onawa Riflemen Down Marine Corps

Onawa Rifle club, from Stroudsburg High school, won over the Marine Corps League's junior rifle team last night, 408-374, on the high school range. Only the top five scores on each team figured in the final tabulation.

However, using all ten scores of both teams, Onawa's club held the upper hand, 706-611.

Woodling Likes Idea

New York (AP)—Gene Woodling, who normally plays left field for the Yankees, says he would like to play center field now that Joe DiMaggio has retired. "Center field affords you lots of room to roam," says Woodling, who hit 281 in 120 games for the champions.

Melchiorre On Probation

Peoria, Ill. (AP)—Eugene "Squeaky" Melchiorre, former Bradley University basketball star, was placed on probation for a year yesterday for his part in fixing the score of a game.

Monroe County League Opens Second Round As Circuit Shoots At Tobyhanna Township

Members of the Monroe County League begin the second round of the 1952 basketball campaign tonight, with five of the six members seeking to knock Tobyhanna Township from the top spot in the standing, a position the charges of Coach Carl Major have held for the past two seasons and for the first-half of the present campaign.

TTHS, winner of all five of its league starts and all non-league outings, will tangle with Pocono High, Tannersville. Pocono was able to win only one of its first five circuit struggles. A social is scheduled to follow the court warfare.

Barrett, currently in second place with four victories and a single setback, will clash with Coolbaugh, on the latter's home court in Tobyhanna. Coolbaugh won two of its first five loop battles.

Tobyhanna Blasts Pocono Lake In Mountains League, 121-45

Pocono Pines—Tobyhanna, currently holding down second place in the Pocono Mountains league, rolled out the radar last night and completely blasted Williams' Pocono Lake Cut Rate drug store off the Tobyhanna Township High school court, 121-45. The contest was played on the losing team's home boards.

At no time was the outcome of the game in doubt, as the visiting contingent rolled up 26 points in the first round, twice as many as the opposition, and then went on to lead at the end of the first half, 57-22.

Same Pattern

The same pattern was followed in the second half, during which the winning contingent held a 24-11 edge in the third round and then hit its scoring peak in the fourth and final quarter, 40-12.

Tobyhanna made 15 of 30 shots from the foul line, while Pocono Lake hit on only seven of 25 tosses from the same distance.

Stan "Lefty" Kolodzey, Al "Mick" Huey and Al Schoch were the big guns for Tobyhanna, as every member of the winning team broke into the scoring column, with 31, 26 and 23 tallies respectively.

Austin "Bud" Blakeslee led the losing aggregation with ten markers.

ESSTC Invades Paterson In Quest Of Third Cage Victory

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will seek to land its third victory in nine basketball outings today, when the Warriors stack up against Paterson State Teachers College, on the latter's home court in Paterson, N. J., at 8:15 p. m.

However, the charges of Coach Ed Shay will be without the services of ace guard Jim Frawley and number one center, Frank "Whitey" Whitecavage. Frawley will be on the sidelines with a head injury, while Whitecavage is reportedly suffering from a virus infection.

Lineup

The Warriors, who are currently sporting a record of two victories and six setbacks, will probably open the game with Bill Schmidt and Dan Dinan at the forward posts, Bill Coleman or Ed Palmer at center, and Joe Malorelli and either "Chick" McGlade or Tony Black at the guard spots.

Cavaliers Entertain Hellertown

East Stroudsburg High school, currently tied with two other teams for first place in the second-half of the Lehigh-Northampton League flag race, will take on the number one club during the first-half, Hellertown, tonight, on the N. Courtland St. hardwood.

The junior varsity contest is scheduled to get underway at 6:45 p. m., with the varsity encounter listed for approximately 8:15.

Hellertown rolled through the first half of the 1951-1952 schedule with eight straight victories and no setbacks, while the Cavaliers broke even with four wins in a total of eight outings.

Both opened the second-half race with victories on Tuesday, East Stroudsburg winning over Nazareth, 63-44, while Hellertown took the measure of Bangor, 69-49.

The Cavaliers are expected to answer the starting bell with John "Juice" Arnt and Jack Treddinick at the forward positions, high scoring Ray Steel at center, and Paul "Candy" Miller and Dick Newton at the guard posts.

Newton injured a knee and was forced from the Nazareth game in the third period, but is reported ready for full duty tonight.

The Cavaliers return to action on Tuesday, when the charges of Coach Dick Forster tangle with Bangor, on the Slaters' home court.

Tannersville—Tannersville protected its first place standing in the Pocono Mountains league last night with a convincing 77-56 victory over West End, here on the Pocono High school hardwood.

Greene-Dreher Plays Host To Lake Township

Newfoundland — Coach Henry "Hank" Arneberg's Greene-Dreher-Stirling cagers will have a chance to move into third place in the standings of the Wayne County Basketball Conference when they meet the Lake Township High five here tonight.

The Stags' rise to the loftiest position they will have held this season is dependant on two things: One—a victory over the Lakers and two—a helping hand from Waymart in its game with Pleasant Mount, present holder of the third rung.

There was a day when a game between the Lake Township representatives and the locals was considered a cut-and-dried proposition with the Stags doing all the cutting. But in their first meeting this year, the Lakers ended all that with a surprise 36-34 upset of the Arnebergmen.

Vital Battle

Thus, the game, vital to the Stags in the WCC race, takes on added interest. The locals will be out to prove that the result of the first clash was just a great, big, horrible mistake and the Lakers will be just as intent on repaying the "Gold and Blues, in part at least, for the many indignities of former years.

Waymart, now leading the pack by one and one-half games by virtue of a 35-33 conquest of Moscow Tuesday night, will be at Pleasant Mount in the second and final meeting of the season between the teams.

In the only other game scheduled, Hawley will be at Honesdale in an attempt to sweep their season series.

Ladies Bowl Tonight

Four matches are on tap for the Twin-Boro Ladies' League tonight, at the Pocono Bowling Center. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two — National Drug vs Weideman's Feeds.

Alleys three and four—Marsh's Foundry vs Ronson.

Alleys five and six—Lawson Automotive vs Monroe Distributors.

Alleys seven and eight—Thomas Funeral Home vs Bartonville Hotel.

Commercial 'C' Rolls

Commercial "C" League cagers will clash at Harmon's Recreation today, at 9:15 p.m.

Alleys one and two—Worthington Mower vs Regina Hotel.

Alleys three and four—Lanterman's Funeral Home vs Kreamer Ice Cream.

Alleys five and six—Nauman's Sporting Goods vs Cole's Drug Store.

Catasauqua Seeks To Add Second-Half Crown To Laurels By Opening Against Lehigh

Harrisburg (7) — Second half play gets underway tonight in most of Pennsylvania's split-season conferences as schoolboy basketball teams race toward the post-season playoffs.

The playoffs between the conference champions are only a month away with definite favorites looming in all parts of the state.

Only four major quintets managed to remain unbeaten in both league and exhibition games during the season's first two months. They are the WPIAL's Farrell and Washington, each winning 16 straight, and Punxsutawney and Williamsport, both sweeping their first 12 games.

Farrell, the western defending champion, and Washington, 1951 WPIAL quarter-finalist, both have a healthy lead in their sectional races. Farrell journeys to Ellwood City (1-7) tonight while Washington entertains Clark (0-6).

Williamsport, which clinched a berth in the District Four playoffs with a 66-51 triumph over Pottsville Monday night, tangles with Shamokin, runner-up to Coal Township, in the first round of the Keystone League. Punxsutawney looks for its second defeat of Altoona, now eliminated.

Two Northeastern leagues seek to settle first round titles tonight.

Unbeaten Old Forge draws once-stopped Taylor in the Lackawanna League. Defending champion Nanticoke is tied with Newport Township, in the Wyoming Valley League with a play-off, if necessary, slated for next Tuesday night. Newport meets Kingston while Nanticoke is at home against Wilkes-Barre G.A.R.

Danville took the first leg on the Susquehanna League title Tuesday night when once-beaten Sunbury was upset, 69-62, by Selinsgrove. Meanwhile Danville downed Milton 73-57. Next league action is Tuesday.

Holidaysburg wrapped up the Mountain League first round Tuesday night by winning over ed from the District Six playoffs.

The top eastern game sends once-beaten Bethlehem to Allentown's defending state champions in the initial action of the second round of East Penn Conference. Bethlehem handed Allentown one of its four defeats earlier in the month. The Hurricane established itself as the eastern favorite after Wednesday night's 72-63 verdict over Pottstown's Ches-Mont League champs.

Settle Titles

Two Northeastern leagues seek to settle first round titles tonight.

Unbeaten Old Forge draws once-stopped Taylor in the Lackawanna League. Defending champion Nanticoke is tied with Newport Township, in the Wyoming Valley League with a play-off, if necessary, slated for next Tuesday night. Newport meets Kingston while Nanticoke is at home against Wilkes-Barre G.A.R.

Danville took the first leg on the Susquehanna League title Tuesday night when once-beaten Sunbury was upset, 69-62, by Selinsgrove. Meanwhile Danville downed Milton 73-57. Next league action is Tuesday.

Holidaysburg wrapped up the Mountain League first round Tuesday night by winning over

Tyrone, 44-43, Tyrone had tied it up last Friday with 38-37 win over Holidaysburg. Tyrone draws defending champion Lehigh tonight. Holidaysburg plays Mt. Union.

Bradford's Owls meet Olean, N. Y., one of two teams to stop the perennial district Nine power this year. Meadville, unbeaten in the Section Two campaign of District Ten, takes on Corry while Titusville goes to Oil City.

Only Section Six, where Duquesne and McKeesport are tied with 7-1 records, of the WPIAL's 11 class "A" sections has more than one leader after Greensburg downed North Huntingdon, 51-41, Tuesday.

Tonight's card includes Greensburg at Hurst, Duquesne at Brentwood, McKeesport at Bethlehem, Uniontown at North Union and Georges Township. Westmont, unbeaten leader of the Tri-County League, meets Windber while runner-up Johnstown draws twice-beaten Ebensburg. Catasauqua, Lehigh Valley kingpin, takes on Lehigh while Pottstown entertains Bridgeport in the Ches-Mont circuit.

Reading, Central Penn winner, waits until next Friday to start the second half.

Wildcats Turn Back Lions

An advantage in the second and third periods turned out to be the winning margin for the Wildcats over the Lions in a Ramsey School League basketball contest yesterday, 15-13. The game was played on the school's court.

Lead Fades

The Lions held a 3-2 advantage after the first quarter but passed into history and also held the upper hand in the final round, 5-1, but this wasn't enough to make up for the damage done by the Wildcats in the second and third stanzas.

It was a 6-2 edge in the second quarter and a 6-3 advantage in the third period that changed the tide of battle.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

BY JIMMY HATIO

AFTER THE FIRST BABY ARRIVES, THE KNOW-IT-ALL RELATIVES STRONGLY ADVISE THAT HE HAVE A BROTHER OR SISTER FOR COMPANY DURING HIS HAPPY CHILDHOOD DAYS

IF YOU DON'T WANT HIM TO GROW UP SELFISH AND SHY, HE SHOULD HAVE A LITTLE BROTHER OR SISTER TO PLAY WITH

TWO CHILDREN ARE LESS TROUBLE THAN ONE CHILD—THEY TAKE CARE OF EACH OTHER

TEACHES 'EM HOW TO GET ALONG WITH THEIR FELLOW MAN—THAT'S WHAT IT TEACHES 'EM—YES, INDEED

SO NOW THERE'S TWO OF THEM—AND A RUNNING WAR GOING ON ALL THE TIME!

Child Clinic Asks County For $3,000

A $3,000 county contribution for the Monroe-Northampton county branch of the child guidance clinic was asked of Monroe county commissioners yesterday.

Dr. Charlotte B. Jordan, Stroudsburg, clinic representative, said a total of $6,000 was needed locally by April. Last year, she said, the county gave $2,000, the doctor herself contributed $2,000, and 10 other persons contributed $200 each. The matter was taken under advisement by commissioners.

The first World War II peace treaty was signed by Britain and Siam on Jan. 1, 1946.
